Halifax April 21. 1832
My dear Sir,
I grieve to hear of Mrs Bishlands affliction, and pray that it may be sanctified to her, and to those most dear to her - This is the richest and most prevailing comfort I can wish for her.
Not understanding exactly by what the new severity of the Post Office proceeds, if letters should be charged to you, I must let me know I own I

most obliged friend
John Nova Scotia

It reads in part: Not understanding exactly by which the new severity of the Post Office may be, I proceed as usual, if the letters should be charged to you, I must bed you to let me know the amount I own. I have no scruple of conscience in this matter. Having a large official correspondence in five separate Governments which from my Diocese, I have nearly 50 pounds a year in postage for public correspondence.
