This composite copy document outlines the history and circumstances surrounding the payment of £5000 made to Allan MacNab in 1853 on behalf of the GWR, together with copies of supporting documentation. According to DCB Vol IX p.526, the £5000 payment was given to MacNab as a retirement gift. Additional payments were also made to him by the GWR in the years following to retain him and his well-connected influence for various future business negotiations. It appears that this document was prepared by J.H. Lloyd for a proposal legal action against MacNab to recover the payment. The writer alleges that the payment was illegal and improperly issued without the knowledge or consent of the board of directors, and without a vote by shareholders. If this legal action was taken, it seems that it never made it to court and the money never recovered.

Item 568-50 – Sir Allan Napier MacNab and Great Western Railway of Canada – 1857, legal document related to payment of £5000 made to Allan MacNab by the Great Western Railway of Canada. Case and opinion of Mr. J.H. Lloyd, compilation dated 24 March 1857. Docketed 5 June 1857. 6 pages closely spaced and neatly written text on 6 folio leaves, bound at the left edge with the original ribbon. Paper watermarked J. Whatman 1855. $600.00

Dear Sir,
Rec'd your letter of June 10th inst in regards to hunting in Alberta I am sorry to say that I can not promise to be out there in time as I am out in northern Ontario just now with the Hudson's Bay Company and I do not think I will be there in time to meet you.
But I can give you the name of two men that I think will be of good service to you and as to big game there is more and deer but very few bear there is some alright if you go to right place. If you drop a line over here to Mr Chester Johnson or Harry Overholt Athabasca Alta. I think you can get one of them, keeping your letter to home

HUDSON'S LAST VOYAGE.
The Shallop on Hudson Bay.
June 28, 1611

One sail in sight upon the lonely sea,
And only one. For never ship but mine
Has dared these waters. We were first,
My men, to battle in between the bergs
And close to these wide waves. This gulf is mine;
I name it, and that flying sail is mine.
The ship that staggers home is mine, mine,
My ship "Discoverie".

The sullen dogs
Of mutineers, the bitches, whelps that snatched
Their food and bit the hand that nourished them,
Have stolen her. You ingrate Henry Greene,
I pluck you from the mixer of Hounditch,
And paid your debts, and kept you in my house,
And brought you here to make a man of you.
You Robert just, unkind, crafty man,
Toothless and treacherous, how many times
Have I employed you as a master's mate
To give you bread! And you Abanuk Prickett,
You sailor clerk, you sailor puritan,
You knew the plot and silently agreed,
Salving your conscience with a pious lie.
Yes, all of you - hounds, rebels, thieves - Bring back
My ship.

Too late, - I rave, - they cannot hear
My voice: and if they heard, adrunken laugh
Would be their answer; for their minds have caught
The fatal firmness of a fool's resolve,
