As good roads encourage the country people to bring their produce to market, it is certainly the interest of the citizens to make the access to town easy.

The habitans in the adjacent parishes are obliged to open a road from the ferry at St. Charles River through the Jesuits lands and the land belongin to the nuns, to join the road which leads to Palace Gate, they are now at work on it.

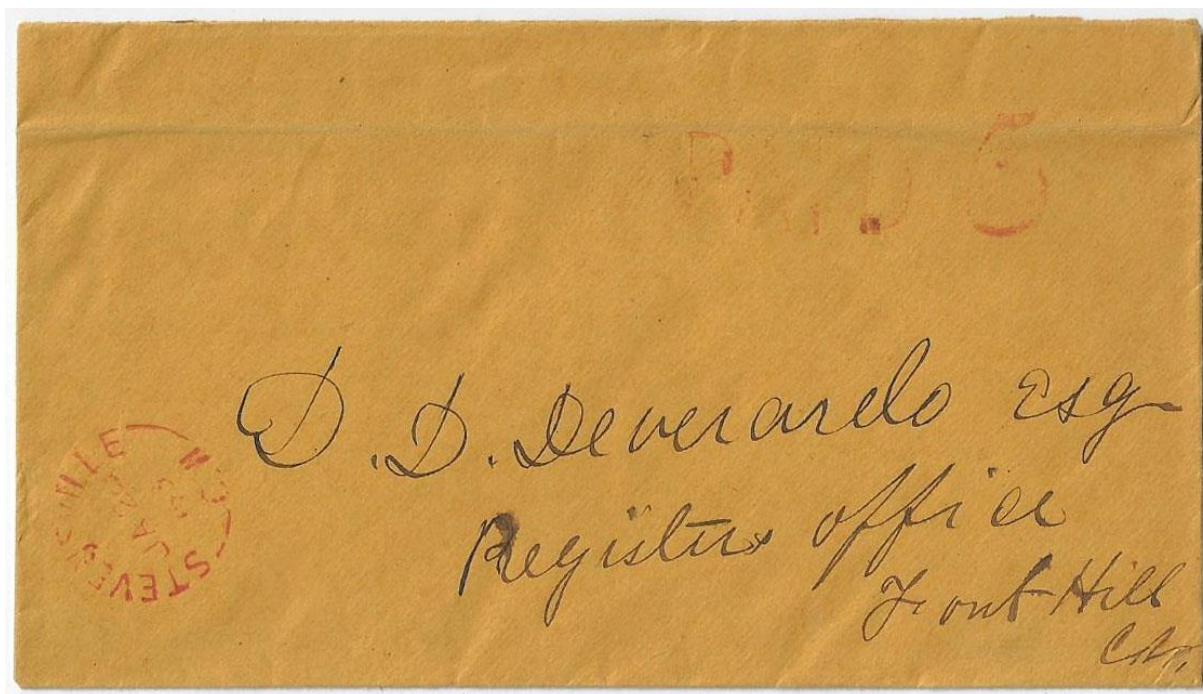

As it has been found impracticable (not withstanding the frequent reparis at a very heave expence to the King) to keep the lower part of the Pakace Street and from Palace Gate to the foot of the descent in tollerable repair, it is a proposed to make a good road from St. John's Gate to join the road now making by the habitans - the materials are at hand and nothing is required but cartage under the direction of an overseer, the road is now lined out and his Excellency the General has been so good as to grant miners at the request of the Grand Voyer to widen the descent which runs along the face of the hill to join the new road below. He has also had the goodness to order the necessary bridges to be make. Now as this proposed road is within the precincts of Quebec, and will contribute the ease and convenience of every person in town, it is but just reasonable that the citizens should contribute to make the road for which purpose let every person in Quebec who keeps a horse whether for pleasure or utility, give his man horse and cart for a certain number of days, if he keeps two horses, double the number of days if three let him give three days of work.

I therefore move the court that this proposal be digested in this session and make a regulation of the Police. //signed// Hugh Finlay, Quebec 8th July 1783.

My Darling Mary Another few lines that are and I and I are feeling well.
How is Dad's illness? I trust he has fully recovered and is getting about OK now.

I am sending this by ordinary mail as I am enclosing a few snaps, also the negs.
There will be a few snaps missing as I am sending those to Park Street and you can get the negative developed if you wish. Would get them done here but they take so long and there is no telling how much longer I shall be in this country, so I thought I'd be on the safe side.
