A very common stamp but seldom seen on cover. Staining. $60.00 SOLD

Item 631-23 – WW1 1st Royal Newfoundland Regiment – inventor of the British Smoke Hood – 1915, OAS censored cover from APO S.Z.2, Gallipoli Turkey, self-censored and signed by Captain Cluny MacPherson to his wife in St. John's Newfoundland (b/s). Dr. Macpherson was commissioned Captain and Medical Officer of the newly formed 1st Newfoundland Regiment. He served with his unit in Belgium, France, Greece, Turkey and Egypt. The German army used poison gas for the first time against allied troops at the second Battle of Ypres in Belgium on AP 22 15. MacPherson created a gas mask which fitted over the entire head (known for inventor of the British Smoke Hood). A few days before this cover was mailed, MacPherson and his Regiment as part of the 29th British Army landed in Gallipoli, he was more likely stationed in the Island of Lemnos where was all the hospitals. After war injury he returned to Newfoundland in October 1916 and retired as Lt-Col. $750.00 SOLD
